

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20505

12 MAR 1982

Colonel Duane E. Vandenberg
Director of Intelligence
United States Readiness Command
MacDill Air Force Base, Florida 33608

Dear Colonel Vandenberg:

Several weeks have passed since I first wrote to you expressing our apology for the incident which resulted in the issuance of a traffic citation during your visit to the Agency in early November 1981. As I indicated in this previous letter, the Agency has been pursuing efforts to make amends to you with reference to this citation.

While unfortunately our efforts have followed a rather long road, nonetheless I am pleased to report success. I am enclosing a money order made out to you in the amount of $10 to cover the unnecessary expenditure associated with the parking citation.

This reimbursement is more significant as a matter of principle than the simple monetary value it represents. Again, you have our apology for the whole incident and I am heartened by your earlier response to me that you will continue to hold this Agency in high regard.

Sincerely,

[Redacted Signature]

Director of Security
